

Adrian Tallie Johnico

May 19, 1976 - May 21, 2025

Adrian Johnico, 49 was called home to heaven on May 21, 2025. Born on May 19, 1976 in Sun Valley, California to Thelma (Nevarez) and Eugene Johnico Jr. A devoted husband, loving father, cherished brother, and a faithful friend, Adrian was the foundation of his family and a guiding light in his community, He shared 25 years of love and partnership with his wife, Jessie, and together they raised three beautiful children; Carson, Maggie, and Aidan. He was their hero, their provider, and their greatest inspiration. Adrian built a life rooted in faith, love and unwavering commitment to those he loved. To know him was to witness quiet strength, servant leadership, and a deep connection to family and culture. His presence filled every room with calm and purpose. He was their center of gravity and his absence is felt in every breath. In the wake of his passing, the grief is immeasurable. His absence leaves a deep silence, a space felt in every part of the lives he held together with love. Yet, even in sorrow, his spirit remains a steady presence in the hearts of those who knew and loved him. We hold to the promise of scripture:" The Lord is close to the brokenhearted and saves those who are crushed in spirit." - Psalm 34:18 Adrian's legacy of love, strength, and services will continue in his family and all whose lives were touched by his, so..."Get up, take a picture, and tell someone to have a good day!"

Adrian is survived by his wife, Jessie of the home; children, Carson Johnico, Maggie Johnico and boyfriend Seth Springfield, and Aidan Johnico; brother,

“ Ed and I enjoyed knowing Adrian for years. Memorial Day Weekend, a few years ago, a devastating storm hit Clayton, damaging homes and knocking down huge trees. In the middle of the night, Adrian was out with his tractor removing trees from driveways and homes. At Danny and Margaret Shockley's home, a tree fell on the porch roof. Adrian removed the tree and drug the porch roof away from the house so they could get out that door. Then he went on to help others, working countless hours. Many people will have similar stories of Adrian's help. He did an excellent job when he welded up the frame for our carport. He was always a joy to talk to and always had a smile on his face. We're stunned by his passing and miss him. Teresa and Ed Bradway

“ As his teacher in jr high Adrian was that student that kept you on the lookout for his next move, but with that mischievous smile and happy attitude you just had to love him. To watch him become such wonderful father, husband, and a positive member of our community was a blessing for me. Rowletta Anderson
