“ Darrell was always the counselor of the family. He was always so perceptive and empathetic. He always knew just what to say to make you feel better, no matter how crappy the situation might be. He was the only person who could tell you to toughen up and stop crying over spilled milk without making you mad at him. You could never really get mad at Darrell. He had a way of looking at life and the world that made him seem like an innocent child. But he was wise beyond any years any human could live. He loved life and lived it to it's fullest. This is a man who was climbing trees like a boy at 50 years old. He may be gone from the world but he will forever remain in our hearts. We are better people for having known him. He is lost but never forgotten.
