“ Kitty was an amazing woman I worked for her and she was a great friend until covid and both of us having bad health we would have lunch together every couple of weeks. When I got saved she was the one that said my prayer. I loved this lady as a sister. I will miss her .

“ I have hundreds of memories of my sister, but some that I remember the best is when we went shopping together. We had a lot of fun and laughed a lot. People looked at us and said, "You two are sisters--only sisters get along like that!"

However, one memory in particular stands out. Kitty was tall and had long legs; when I was about 10 and Kitty was 16, she said, "Let me kick over your head!" I was reluctant, but finally agreed. The first kick sailed inches over my head, but she wanted to do it again. That time, I literally got kicked upside the head. She was aghast, and I always told her that if I did not show good judgement at times, it was because she kicked the sense out of me as a young age.

She was universally liked, and that is a testament to her character. I liked her and I loved her. I still do . . .
