“ Some things are better left unsaid out of respect. I wish that I had gotten one more chance to talk to Gwen I had a lot of questions from growing up. And I carried a lot of hurt and pain for years. I see now as an adult that you were also an adult with your own insecurities pain and fear. So I forgive you. And may your energy find peace in it's next destination.

“ I will always remember Aunt Gwen's sense of humor. Her smile would light up a room and her kindness was contagious. She was like a kid at Christmas when she got gift cards, especially Hobby Lobby!! I always joked that she needed to learn to take a compliment. She lived her life for others until the end. We didn't always see eye to eye, but we were ok. I raise an iced latte to you Lady, may you rest easy. Love you Gwen 💜🌻

“ I'll never forget the family hunting trips out by that little town of Washington. Everyone came, men, women, kids, and our various dogs. Quite a sight, and great memories for this '80s kid.

Another memory that comes to mind is uncle David and aunt Gwen feverishly mixing a huge bowl of stuffing for our annual Thanksgiving gathering. The house was full, and we were hungry!

It's funny what one remembers.

“ Momma was a good woman who had a passion for many things. But her most recognized passion was her love of children.

When it comes to the Murrays, i remember We took trips all over the place. In the summertime, we would go tubing down the river, go to nice private swimming holes where you could jump off a bridge and into safe waters without getting hurt. We also went deer hunting and camping in the mountains, we even did some 4-wheeling in the mountains as well. I even, or shall I say, “We” even got to help repair and upkeep the vehicles, and the house and yard when the time called for it. You really got a feeling of togetherness. I was amazed at what I was feeling while I was with them. I never knew what being part of a family felt like.

Gwen was also a very encouraging woman. as i was coming out of my hardened shell, she encouraged me to participate in various activities. It was Gwen who convinced me to go to Summer & Easter camps in Chico, CA. It was Gwen who showed me it was ok to reach out into the community to help others through the church, It was Gwen who started to remove my shyness and fears, and it was Gwen who did her best to prepare me for the outside world.

While i am not the man i am sure she hoped i would be, i am the man i am today because of her. i only spent 3 years with her. but in that time she invested and poured a lifetime's worth of love, and compassion into my heart. I owe Gwen my life. i would have happily given mine to save hers.
