“ I'm a dear long time friend of Peggy. Last we spoke was on her birthday and day after. She was excited about the holidays and time with her grandkids & children. We made plans to get together after the holidays to catch up on our lives. We always spoke for hours about life, but not nearly enough. It was an honor to have her as a friend, sharing the heartaches, secrets and joys that life had given us. My soul is so very sad, We always planned to be roommates one day when life slowed down. We would laugh & cry about how much we had in common & how one day it would be fun to be roommates....2 single & crazy old women laughing & enjoying life. We enjoyed sharing about time we spent with our families, cats...her singing and me gardening. I was blessed above & beyond that God placed such a wonderful friend in my life. I miss you so very much my dear friend and until we meet again...may your soul sing, dance & play 💕🎵🎸💕🙏

“ Mom loved to play her guitar! She brought it everywhere! She always wanted me to sing with her as she played. I have her songs she wrote now, and I treasure them. They were such a neat, creative special part of her!
